COVID-19 Update: Continue Safety Protocols

One year ago, we were scrambling and running scared of the unknown virus COVID-19. We knew little about it and the future seemed bleak. Today, we have made great strides, but we are still far from putting this pandemic behind us.

Statewide infection rates have dropped, but people are still getting sick, being hospitalized, and dying. Many of us have gotten lax with our hand washing, mask wearing, and social distancing. At all our work locations, we must not let our guard down. Masks are still expected to be worn when we are in common areas or working closer than 6 feet from another person. We will continue to minimize meeting sizes, sanitize our work areas several times a day – especially if multiple team members use that space, and report any symptoms to health services immediately.

COVID vaccines are now readily available through the local health department and our employee clinic. Call Legacy Health & Wellness and schedule a shot for you and your family. My wife and I got the first dose of the Pfizer vaccine more than a week ago. While I did experience some tiredness the next day, I had no other adverse reactions.

Today, only 14% of the Louisiana residents have been fully vaccinated. It will take 75% to reach herd immunity and get back to the way things were before COVID. In regards to the vaccine, I ask you to make an educated and informed decision that best meets your family's needs. Please do not base your choice on rumors and hearsay.

Be safe and stay well.
